FOREWORD

The discovery of the wheel about five thousand years ago marked one of the most important steps in man's development. The first important use of the wheel was in transportation. It has found another important use in mechanics in controlling the flow of power. The cog wheel put the Industrial Revolution in motion. As many wheels roll, the panorama of America's greatness unfolds. Without this vital invention, today's civilization would be impossible. Today the wheel is far advanced from the rolling stone, and education is far more effectual than that of the one-room schoolhouse. Since the wheel started rolling, it has always been in motion; so too has education. The mind, like the wheel, must never be dormant; it must always be searching for improvement and growth. The educational program at RHCS is constructed like a wheel with the curriculum centered at the hub. The spokes between the hub and the rim hold the wheel together. Like spokes, teachers working from the hub, the curriculum, reach each student and help produce a well-rounded education. Because of the similarity of the wheel and the educational system at RHCS, the staff has chosen the wheel as the theme of the 1963 SCOPE.

DEDICATION

For ten years, we, the students of RHCS, have turned to Mrs. Helen Holahan for instruction and guidance. Mrs. Holahan came to RHCS as an English teacher but as a result of the growth of our Language Department now teaches the Latin classes. Mrs. Holahan is also an accredited French teacher and is qualified to teach elementary and other secondary subjects as well. At the University of Rochester where she earned her bachelor's degree, she developed interests in the theater and journalism. She has done graduate work at Cornell, Geneseo, the University of Buffalo, and D'Youville. Honeoye, Barker and Akron High Schools have also benefited from her teaching. She has two children, both of whom graduated from RHCS with honors and are now attending college. As an adviser of Journalists Club, she has spent many hours aiding in the publication of "Echo". She has also helped with the literary work of SCOPE. Mrs. Holahan, we are grateful for the sincere interest and assistance which you have offered so willingly. You were never too busy to stop and help us. For this, we all say "Thank you" and Press Club proudly dedicates the 1963 edition of SCOPE to you, our teacher and our friend.

MR. RAYMOND S. PEASE, President; DR. FRANK L. PITA, MR. RUSSELL DROMAN, MR. ROGER SILSBY, MR. TRACY BAXTER
Absentee: DR. NORMAN KROG

BOARD OF EDUCATION

One of the functions of the Board of Education is evident in the extensive construction on the school grounds. Plans for changes in our school building and the new addition were formulated by the Board of Education and voted on favorably by the taxpayers. We shall all be proud of our new facilities. Proud, too, are we of the harmonious relationship of this policy-making body with administration, faculty, and the people of our communities. This past year has seen several changes in Board personnel. Mr. Jesse Gifford and Mr. Donald Swift, who both served so capably and faithfully, relinquished their posts to two members, Mr. Roger Silsby and Dr. Frank L. Pita. On December 17, Mr. Frederick W. Waters, who, as a Board member, gave his services to the district for nine years, died of a heart attack. RHCS will miss him greatly. Mr. Louis Gillmeister has been appointed to fill the unexpired term. Dr. Norman Krog represents our Board of Education on the Board of Cooperative Service. For all its many services in maintaining our fine educational standards, we, the student body, offer the Board of Education our sincere gratitude.

IN MEMORIAM

FREDERICK WATERS

April 15, 1892 — December 17, 1962

MR. CHARLES PORTER,
Supervising Principal

ADMINISTRATION

The administrators are the "big wheels" of the Royalton-Hartland Central School district. It is their job to maintain high standards of education at RHCS. By carrying out the policies of the Board of Education they act as a link between the Board and the faculty and students. The administration also develops the school curriculum, governs the academic program, and oversees our highly qualified faculty, thus helping to preserve the high scholastic standing of our school. In addition, the administrative staff makes sure that our educational system meets all of the requirements prescribed by the State Education Department, and they also represent the school at many varied public functions. Much credit must be given to the administration for the important role they play in maintaining our educational excellence, and in keeping the "wheels of progress" rolling along at RHCS.

BUILDING PRINCIPALS

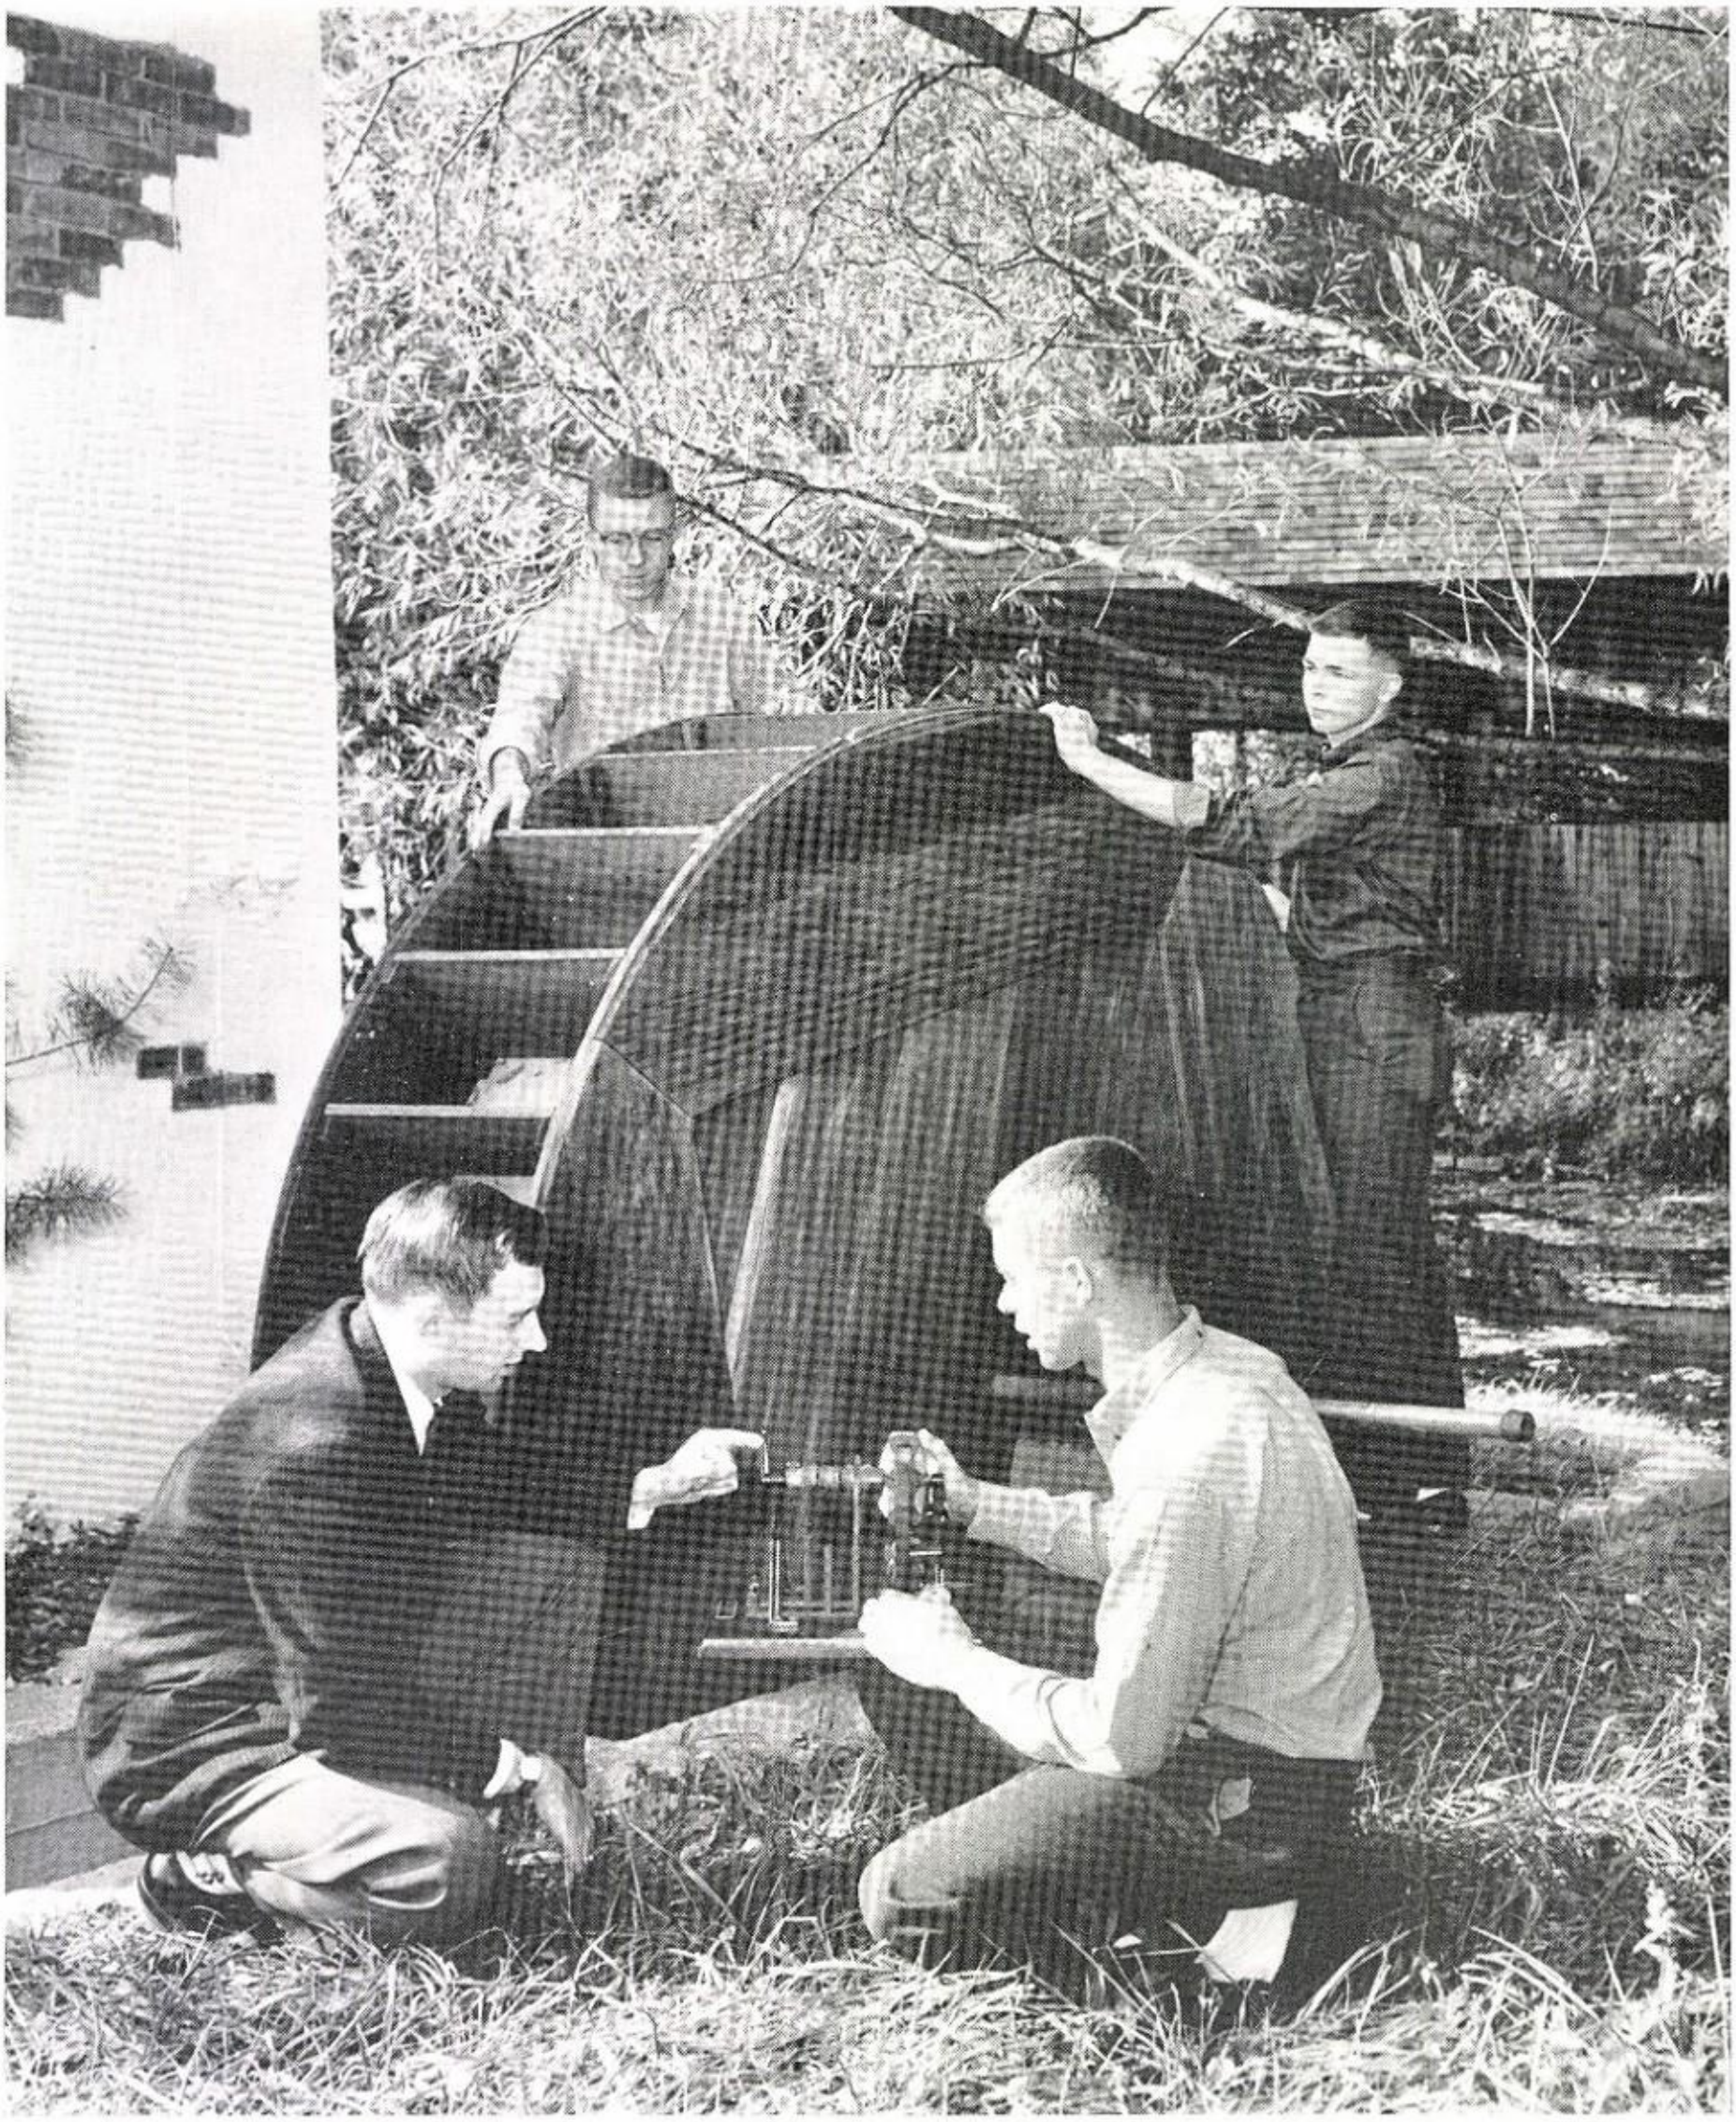
MRS. JEAN KOENIG, Building Principal Middleport Elementary; MR. MAYNARD BOWMAN, Building Principal Gasport Elementary; MR. JOHN FAHY, Director of Secondary Education

BUSINESS MANAGER AND CLERK

MR. JOHN McDONOUGH, Business Manager; MRS. PAULINE CHESTNUT, Clerk of the Board of Education

OFFICE

Seated: MRS. RITA VANDERWALKER, Secretary General Office
Standing: MRS. NANCY PAYNE, Secretary High School Office; MRS. SANDRA LePARD, Secretary Elementary Library; MRS. CARRIE HILL, Account Clerk; MRS. BETTY MUNSON, Secretary Gasport Elementary; MRS. LINDA ARNOLD, Secretary High School Library; MISS LUCRETIA CREASEY, Secretary Middleport Elementary; MRS. NANCY AMOS, Secretary Guidance Department



FACULTY AND CURRICULUM

As the mill wheel generated power years ago the RHCS faculty and curriculum generate education.

ENGLISH

Absentee: MISS DORIS ST. JOHN, Senior High English, Head of English Department

YOUR GRAMMAR IS SHOWING

"I" before "e" except after "c" is a spelling rule. This rule and many others are part of the wide area of English taught at RHCS. Grammar, sentence structure, and composition work are also stressed. In the higher grades students study English and American literature in detail. English is not only educational but also fun, and prepares the students for speaking, listening, reading and writing in this challenging world.

Sharon Patterson

In Advanced Placement, an accelerated English course offered to seniors, panel members discuss a sociological novel.

Research work in English is done as early as eighth grade as is shown by these three girls busy in the library.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Seated: MR. BRUNO PACINI, Junior High Social Studies, Seventh Grade Co-Adviser, Football Coach, Varsity Club Co-Adviser; MR. EDWARD MALONEY, Junior High Social Studies, Eighth Grade Co-Adviser, Junior Varsity Football Coach; MR. CHARLES KANE, Senior High Social Studies, Head of Social Studies Department, Senior Class Co-Adviser, Audio-Visual Club Adviser, National Honor Society Co-Adviser; MRS. VIRGINIA EVERETT, Senior High Social Studies, American Field Service Club Adviser, Sophomore Class Co-Adviser

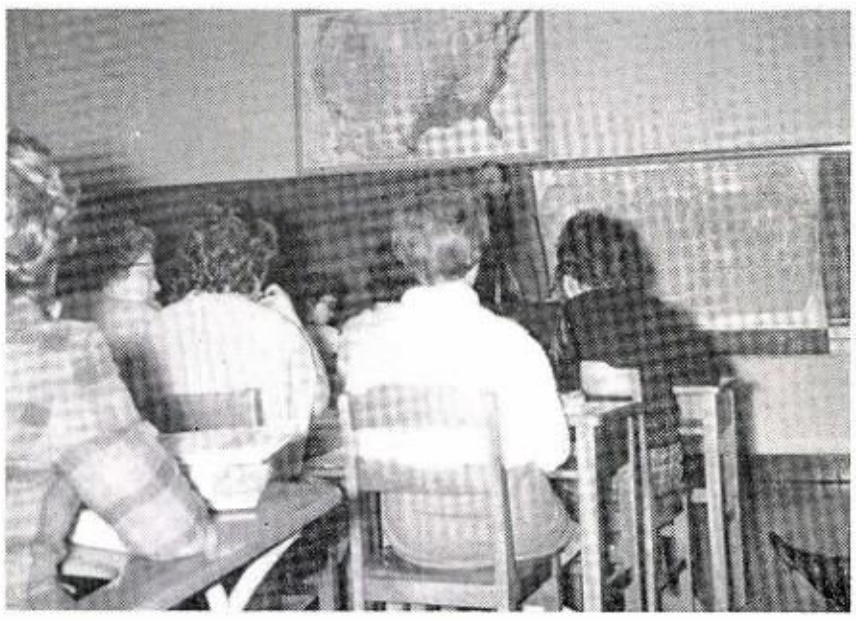
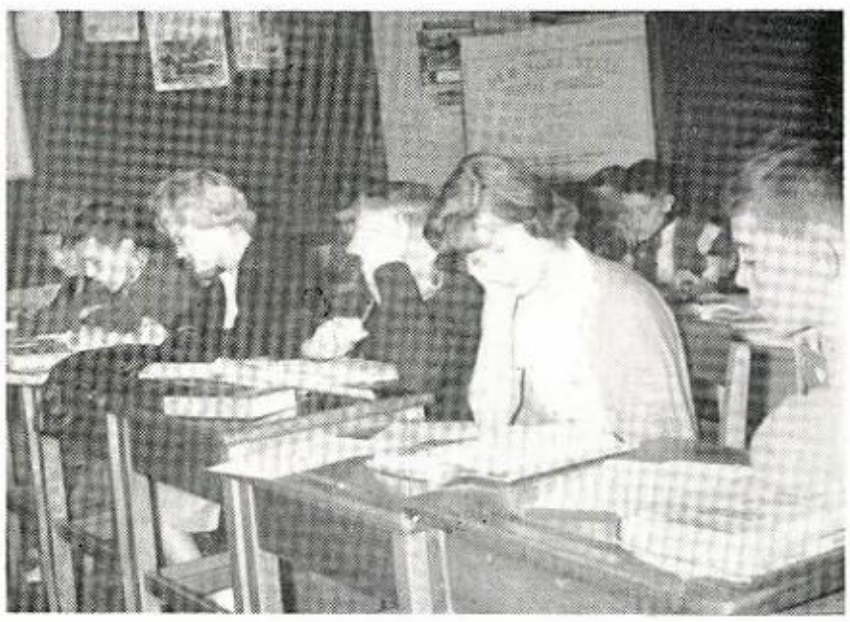
BETTER CITIZENS BUILD A BETTER AMERICA

"No government can remain stable in an unstable society . . . . " With this in mind, the Social Studies Department strives to fulfill its primary objective — to mold the students of today into the strong, stable citizens of tomorrow. Seniors have gained a knowledge of their state and federal governments and the problems hindering world peace and unification. Confident and ready, they step into the roles of responsible citizens awaiting them in the "wide, wide world."

Margaret A. Deneau



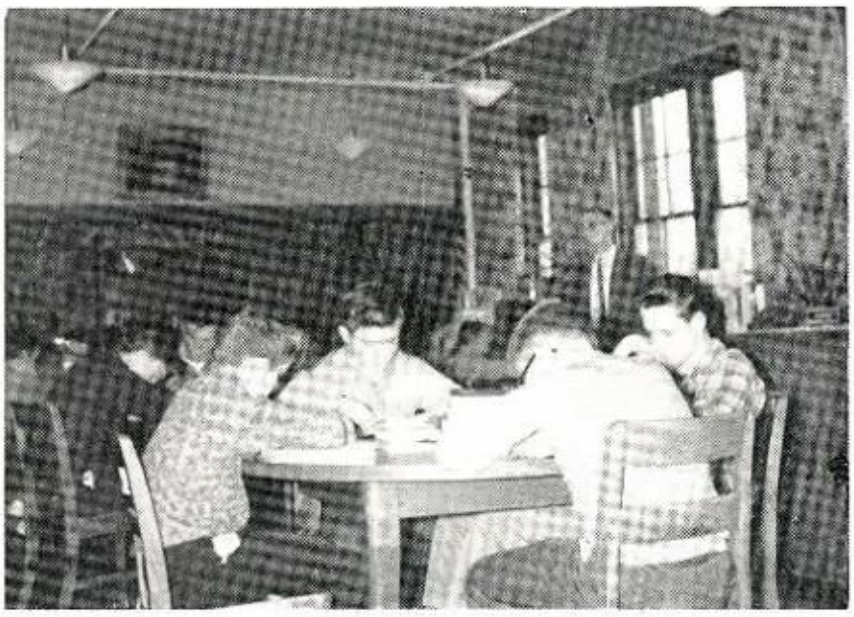
Oral reports are an effective method of learning American history. The class listens intently to Fred Leibring.



Part of each period is given to supervised study. Mr. Maloney's class delves into New York State History.

LIBRARIANS

MRS. MARGARET BLACKBURN, Librarian Middleport Elementary Building; MISS MARGARET HOFERT, Librarian Gasport Building; MRS. DORIS R. BUNNELL, Librarian High School, Library Club Adviser

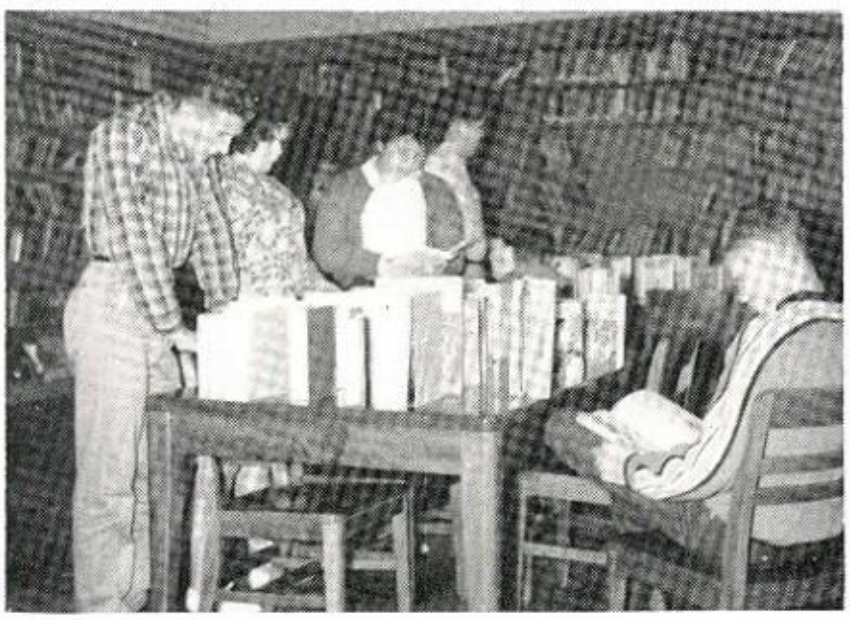


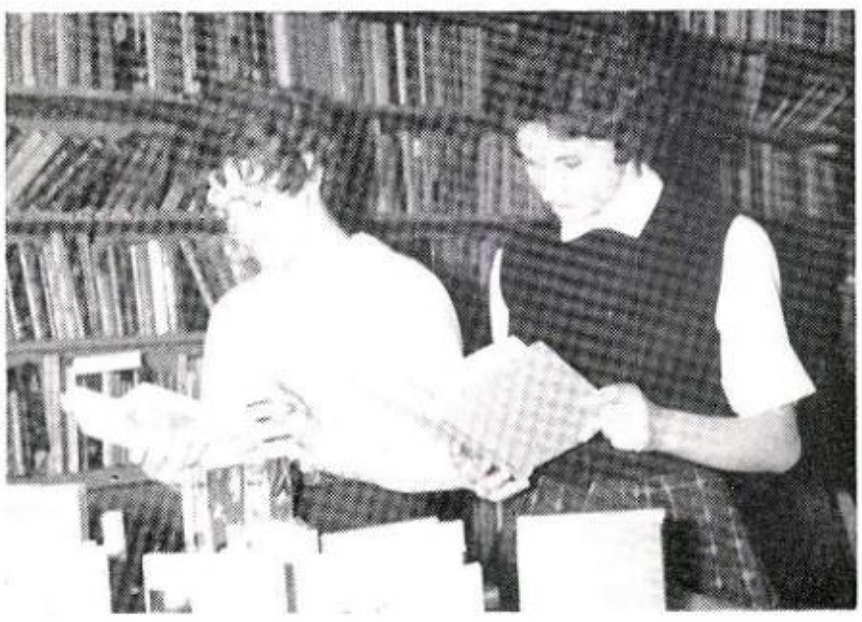
One phase of junior high English is the study of library science. Mr. Finger's class is using some of the information learned.

DEWEY DECIMAL DOERS

Term papers, book reports, written projects and compositions are familiar assignments to students of RHCS. Whenever such assignments are presented, students go immediately to the library. Research books, encyclopedias, dictionaries, and current biographies, are just a few types of books available to assist students in writing these assignments. When the building program has been completed, the library will be improved tremendously by the provision of a reading room and more shelf space. A highlight of the year was the observance of Book Week.

Sandra Donner





In November the President proclaims National Book Week. In keeping with this, Mrs. Bunnell and her library club arrange a display of new books and all English students are given class time to browse. This helps to create and develop an interest in reading and exploring new fields.

SCIENCE

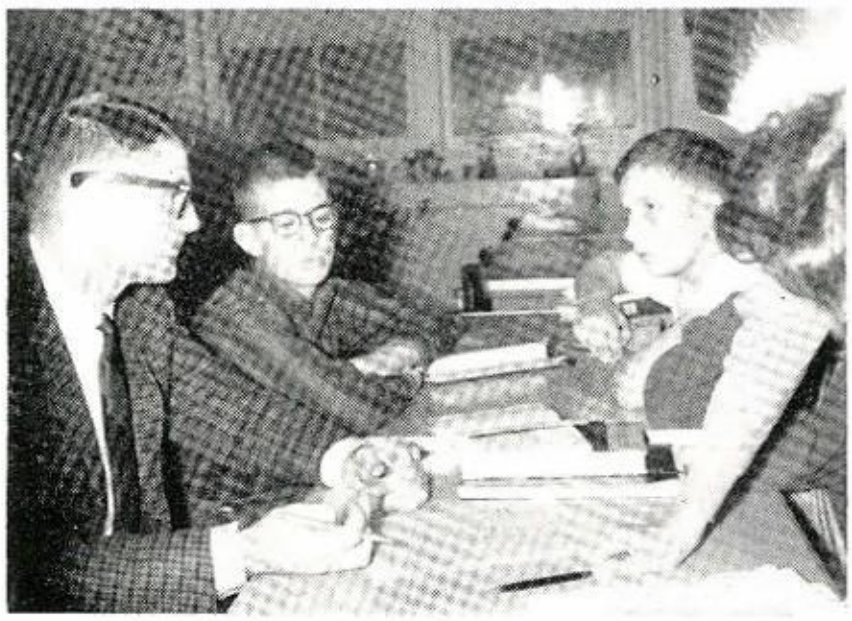
SEARCHING INTO SPACE

How remarkable it is to think of the many scientific advances since the beginning of the last decade! To better prepare a student for the future, new methods of scientific education are being introduced in our Science Department. Space biology is becoming an important course of study for both junior and senior high school students. Scientific study has been made easier with the development of new technical devices such as the overhead projector and the microprojector. Laboratory work enables a student to learn more about science by individual experimentation.

Deborah Kaiser



A test is a valuable teaching medium. During activity period Mr. Koenig is reviewing a test and explaining points these students answered incorrectly. This extra help is a big boost to students.

Mr. McKinney isn't in his second childhood. He is blowing soap bubbles to demonstrate surface tension and minimal surfaces. Josh Ongom, with a pencil in his mouth, and his American brother, Ken Small, are working with parallel forces. Lab is required in each senior high science class.

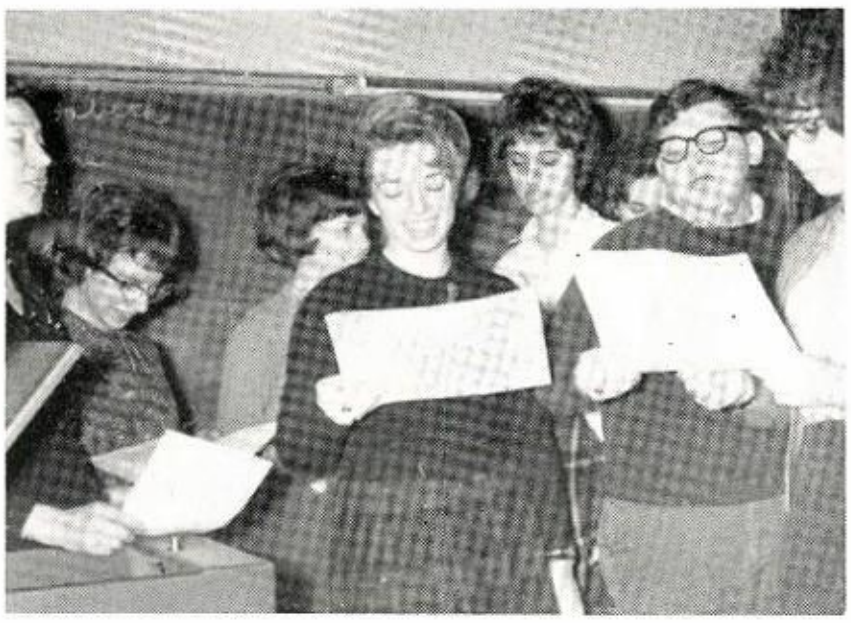
LANGUAGE

MRS. HELEN HOLAHAN, Latin, Sophomore Class Co-Adviser, Journalists Club Adviser; MRS. HELEN LENT, French, Sophomore Class Co-Adviser, French Club Adviser

IT'S A SMALL WORLD

"Bonjour!" "Salve!" "Hola!" Greetings from the French, the Romans, and the Spanish. This year RHCS's students are communicating in three foreign languages. Students may now elect Spanish as well as French as a modern language. They learn the structure of their elective language while acquiring knowledge of foreign people and their customs. Classes are made more interesting by the use of audio-visual aids such as film strips, movies, and the language laboratory. With the increase in world travel, the ability to converse in other languages is essential.

Deborah Kaiser



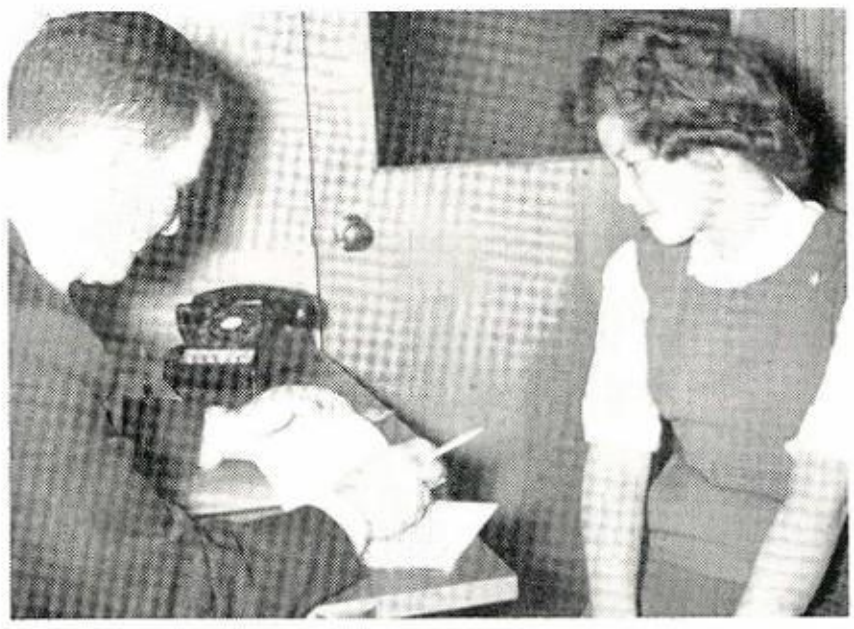
One method of improving French accent is by singing French songs. Students thoroughly enjoy this as is shown here. Waiting for the bell to begin class! Some students take advantage of this time to review their notes. A "School-to-Home Service" is used to allow an injured student confined to his home to participate in Latin class.

STUDENT COUNSELORS
MR. JAMES F. VAIL, MR. NORMAN USCHOLD

QUESTIONS CHEERFULLY ANSWERED HERE

"I just can't decide what I want to be," says Karen. Through a discussion of the results of aptitude tests, the student counselors can aid the student in deciding what course of study would best suit his abilities. Various types of work and job opportunities are also discussed. For college bound students, field trips are arranged to different colleges and representatives of colleges and universities come to talk to interested students. "Guidelines" is also published to aid juniors and seniors.

Jane Luskey



To provide information for students and counselors ten different tests are administered at RHCS. Here the Differential Aptitude Tests are being taken. The counselors also help students with their schedules and work out programs with new entrants as Mr. Vail is doing for Linda Dempsey.

BUSINESS

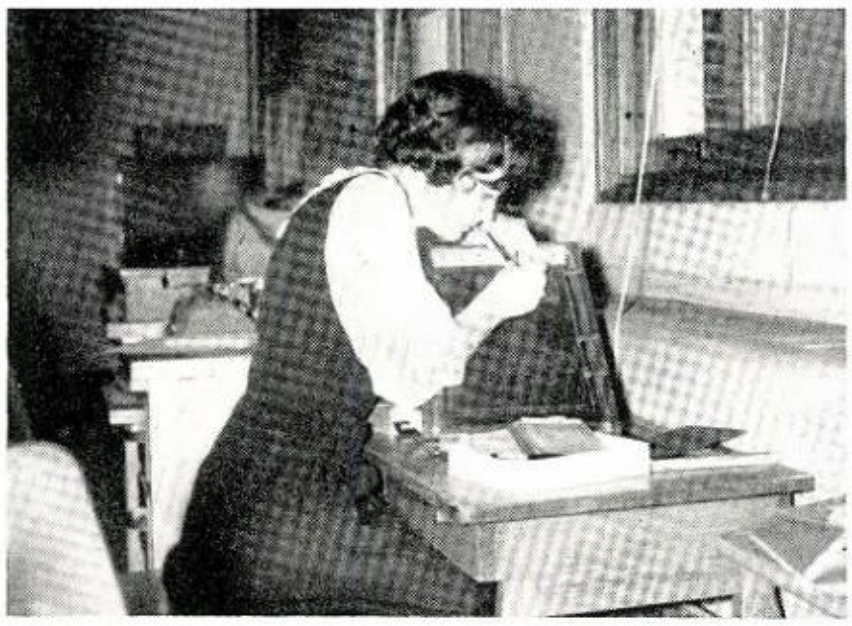
MR. SALVATORE J. DiCARLO, Non-Vocational, Retailing Club Adviser; MISS BARBARA CRAWFORD, Secretarial, Freshman Class Co-Adviser; MRS. HELEN McKINNEY, Secretarial, Head of Business Department, Senior Class Co-Adviser, Press Club Adviser, SCOPE Adviser

Judy Nordhoff and Lynne Weller represented RHCS in the typing contest at Alfred State Tech. This, the Facit and the National Typing contest are an aid in improving accuracy.

ACCURACY IS OUR BUSINESS

"Remember; accuracy is more important than speed." Thus RHCS enters another typing contest. Contests entered this year included one sponsored by Alfred State Tech, the Facit Contest, and the National Contest. Also each month both typing and shorthand students take tests from the Gregg Publishing Company, for which they receive pins and certificates. A few students are being taught the machine transcription course in which they attain proficiency on the Dictaphone and the Audograph. Business Department students act as a stenographic pool.

Janice Kimmich



Sandra Sheldon is making a Christmas card on the mimeoscope. She later ran the stencil off on the mimeograph. Gloria Milhollen is training Sandra Austin to use the dictaphone. Secretarial Practice and Office Practice II students learn to operate adding and calculating machines, transcribing machines, duplicating machines and electric typewriters.

ART

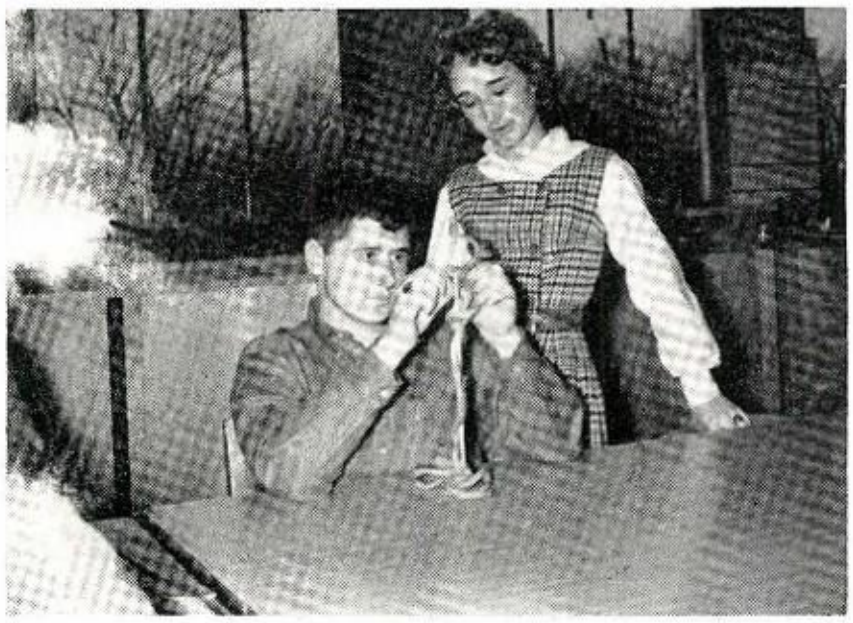
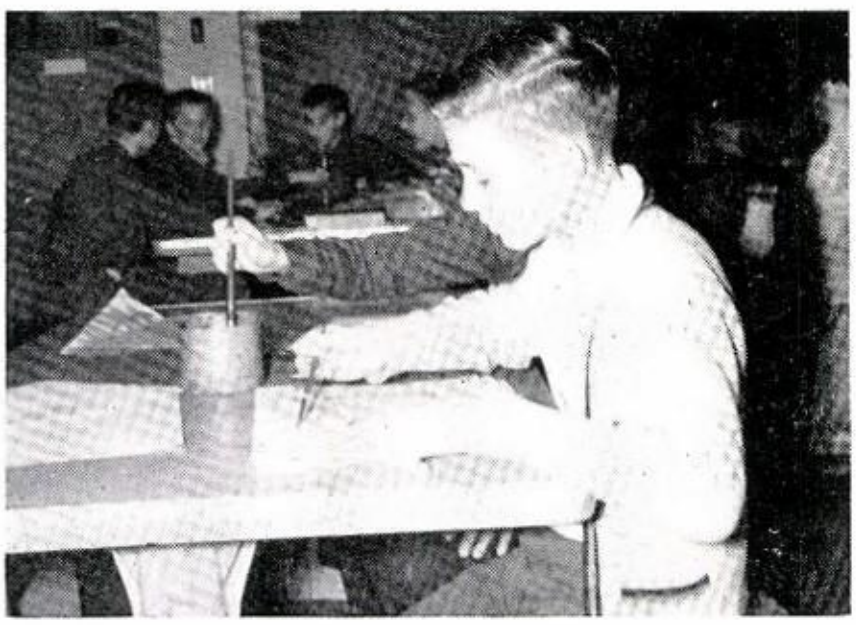
VARIETY IS THE SPICE OF LIFE

Danny works in oils at the easel; Marg molds a clay face beside a work bench; Arlene sketches a sign in Old English upon the drawing board. Each student in the high school art classes is allowed to pursue his own artistic interests. From this creative freedom emanates a variety of art works ranging from water-color rural scenes to still mobiles. In November a field trip enabled members of the art classes to view first-hand the work of a prominent modern artist, Andrew Wyeth. The artists also contributed to many colorful display cases at RHCS during the year.

Ruth Ball



Becky Burns watches James Gormley put clay over an armature, one of the many projects in advanced art. In this class each student finds and develops his greatest talent.



Junior high art students have made the hall show cases most interesting and attractive by displaying many different projects. Gary Bass and his classmates are painting pictures with the use of water colors. Mr. Wrobbel is showing how to hang a Christmas wreath which was made by the seventh and eighth grade classes.

MATHEMATICS

MR. BORDEN SMITH, Junior High Mathematics, Junior Historical Co-Adviser, Eighth Grade Co-Adviser, Student Award Auditor, Advisory Committee Teachers' Association; MR. PAUL McCARTY, Senior High Mathematics, Head of Mathematics Department, National Honor Society, Co-Adviser, Student Council Co-Adviser, Faculty Manager Extra-Curricular Accounts; MRS. OLIVE SHERMAN, Junior and Senior High Mathematics, Freshman Class Co-Adviser, National Honor Society Co-Adviser; MRS. ALICE EWING, Junior High Mathematics, Eighth Grade Co-Adviser; MR. PHILLIP CIARICO, Junior High Mathematics, Sophomore Class Co-Adviser

CALCULATE WITH CALCULUS

If a wheel is five feet in diameter and has twelve spokes, what is the length of the arc between each spoke? How many different nine-digit numbers can be written by using the digits one to nine? Problems like these are solved by classes in our Mathematics curriculum. An added subject, given this year on an experimental basis, was introduction to calculus provided through cooperation with the Ford Foundation. Mathematics has become increasingly important in our changing world. One day soon, RHCS mathematicians may be instrumental in the solution of the problems of travel between planets.

Pamela King

MUSIC

Seated: MRS. MIRIAM FLATT, Junior and Senior High Vocal Music, Mixed Chorus Director, Acappella Choir Director, Seventh Grade Co-Adviser; MRS. WILMA TAYLOR, Elementary Vocal Music, Elementary Chorus Director

Standing: MR. ROBERT CAVERS, Instrumental Music, A Band Director, Dance Band Director, Elementary Band Director; MR. CHARLES HAWKINS, Instrumental Music, B Band Director, Elementary Band Director; MR. STANLEY TINDER, Elementary Vocal Music, Elementary Chorus Director

BACH, BEETHOVEN AND BIRDIE

The music goes round and round as the 264 members of Mixed Chorus, the Acappella Choir, the Junior Chorus, the A and B Bands, the Orchestra and the Dance Band practice. That practice makes perfect was proved to be true when these organizations presented assembly programs, Christmas and spring concerts and the musical, Bye Bye Birdie. Each band member has had individual instruction for one period a week this year. Chorus students studied the work of great artists and practiced breath control and diction. As the wheel rolls on and on with its rhythmical motion, so will music furnish enjoyment for many years to come.

Rebecca Harvey

Vocal classes are held three days a week. Here Mrs. Flatt works for increased tone production. Each student who plays in the band may choose to take weekly instrumental lessons.

HOMEMAKING

MISS BARBARA BAKER, Junior High Homemaking, High School Red Cross Adviser, Seventh Grade Co-Adviser; MISS DORRIS CLOSS, Senior High Homemaking, Supervising Teacher, Future Homemakers of America Adviser

Various housekeeping jobs are learned in homemaking classes. Mary Schlinger and Bernice Duchow refinish a chair. The furniture and the rugs in the homemaking suite are cleaned and shampooed each spring.

MEANWHILE BACK AT THE RANGE

One secret of every successful home is a well-informed homemaker. Every "homemaker to be" learns in the RHCS Homemaking Department the art of preparing well-balanced, tempting meals. Care of children and general health of a family are taught in the family unit, along with facts on building a successful marriage and home. Along the creative lines, the girls learn the construction of clothing and textiles and receive tips on refinishing furniture and enhancing home furnishings and on original entertaining. These are all important skills to the girl who plans to make creating an attractive, happy home her life's work.

Joan Stahl

Five brands of instant potatoes were prepared, tasted, and judged by members of the class while a representative of a company and the cafeteria manager looked on. A junior-high class prepared and enjoyed a Hawaiian luau. They sat on the floor to eat this repast as Hawaiians sit on the sand.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

MR. CARL SMUGOR, Industrial Arts and Mechanical Drawing, Eighth Grade Co-Adviser, Firewardens Co-Adviser, Industrial Arts Club Co-Adviser, Director of Adult Education; MR. WALTER KAZ, Industrial Arts and Driver Education, Eighth Grade Co-Adviser, Firewardens Co-Adviser, Industrial Arts Club Co-Adviser; MR. ROBERT QUERNS, Industrial Arts, Head of Industrial Arts Department, Firewardens Co-Adviser, Industrial Arts Club Co-Adviser, New York State Teachers' Association Delegate

DO-IT-YOURSELF EXPERTS

Initiative and guidance produce the finished product. At the beginning of the school year each Industrial Arts student, on his own initiative, starts a project in one of the many varied fields such as woodworking, plastic, metal and electric shop, which are offered in the Industrial Arts program. Simple products are created during the first years of the curriculum, but as the student gains in knowledge, experience and ability, he advances to more difficult types of construction. Basic skills learned at RHCS will make these students the skilled workers who keep the wheels of our nation's industries turning.

Sharon Patterson

Junior High boys wait for instructions before starting a project. They have made chisels, punches, soldering irons, wrought iron furniture and sheet metal items.

Douglas Berner is laying out a sheet metal project which is a hand tool operation. Earl Pechuman prepares a fixture for drilling a hole in a vise casting in metal shop. Many of the items made in these classes have been displayed in the first-floor showcase.

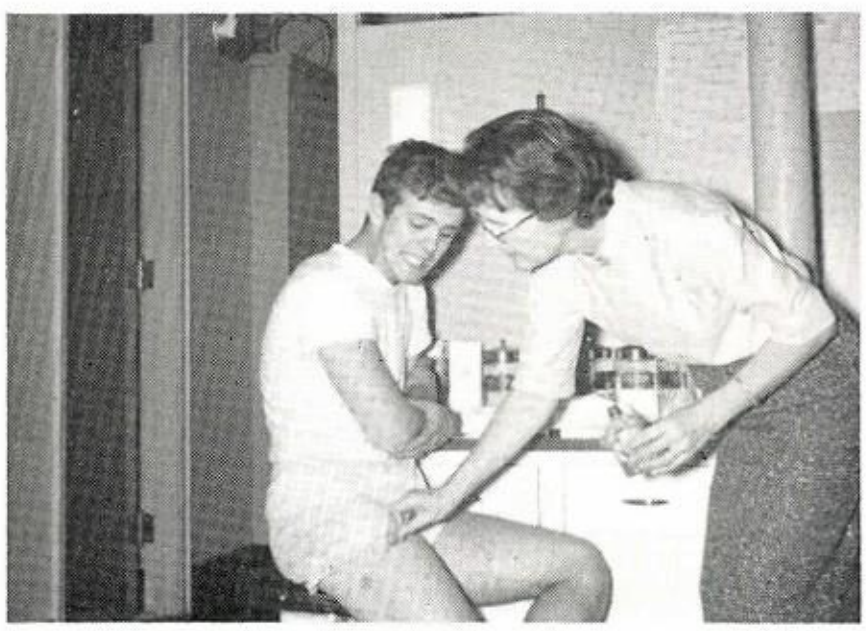
HEALTH

MRS. ALICE GOODMAN, High School Nurse Teacher, Future Nurses Club Adviser; MRS. ALICE DICKINSON, Elementary Nurse Teacher; MISS DORIS ANDRESS, Elementary Dental Hygiene Teacher

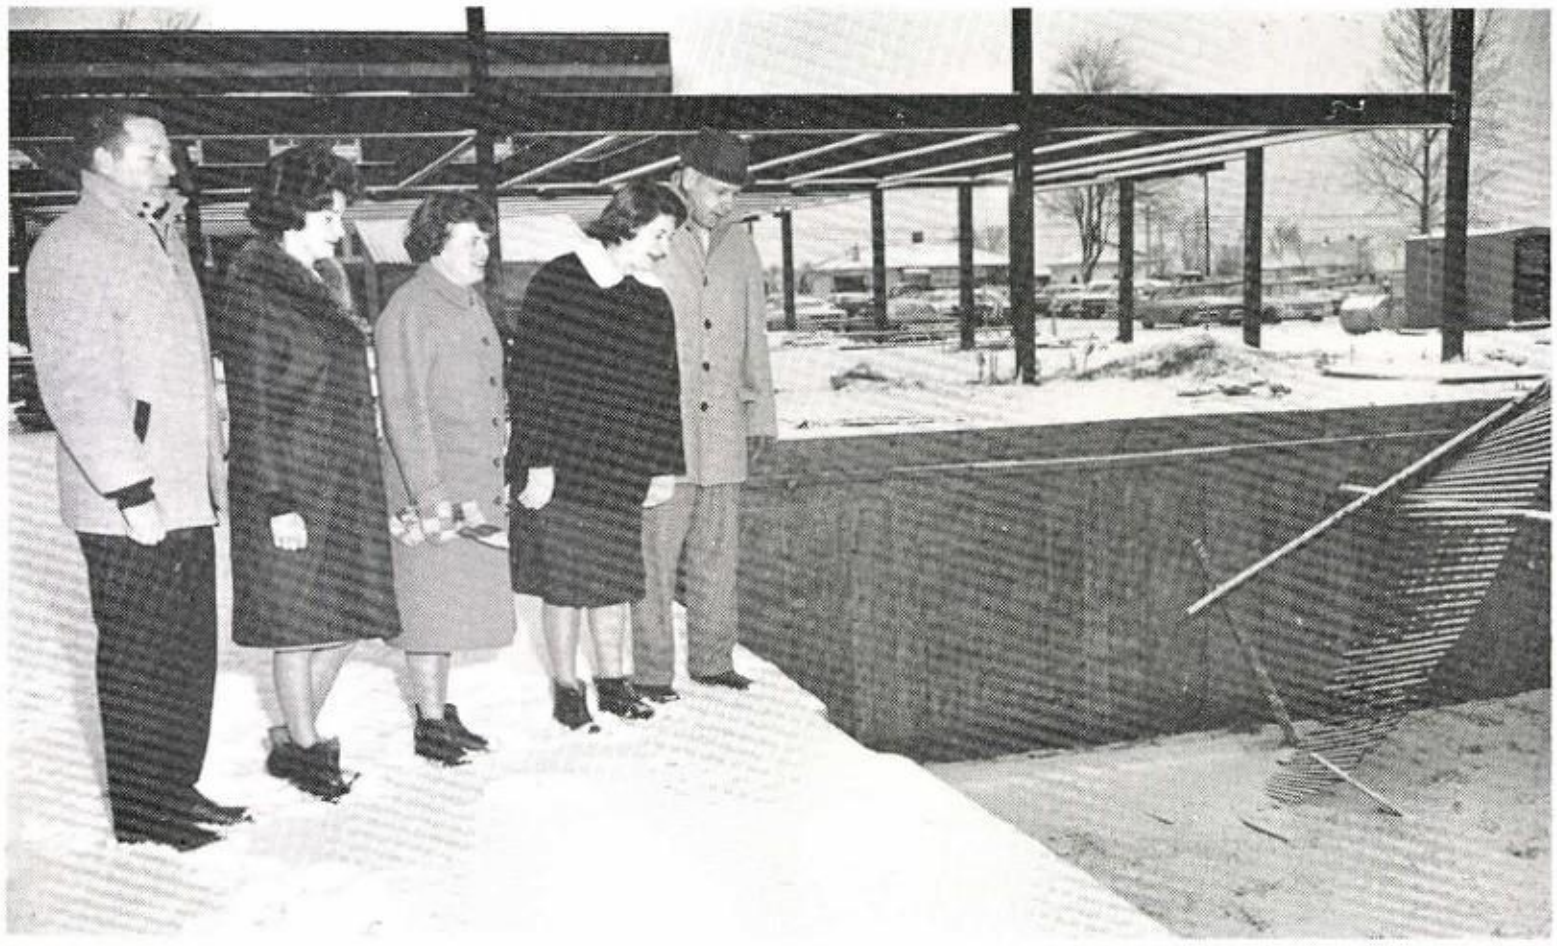
OUR HEALTH IS IN THEIR HANDS

Have you sustained a minor injury? Come to the Health Department where first aid is given to anyone who has had an accident or has become ill during school. Every year this department conducts a series of screening tests which involve a complete check-up of eyes, ears, and teeth of all students. Any defects found are reported to the students' parents and immediate correction is recommended. All information becomes a part of a student's record and is filed for future reference. This year a special course in Civil Defense First Aid Training was offered where participants learned many valuable emergency procedures.

Judy Kimmich



To instruct and to aid are the aims of the Health Department. Mrs. Goodman administers treatment to Richard Faery. Doesn't he seem to be enjoying it? Colleen Tylec practices the first step of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on Darinda Stearns in Civil Defense First Aid Class.



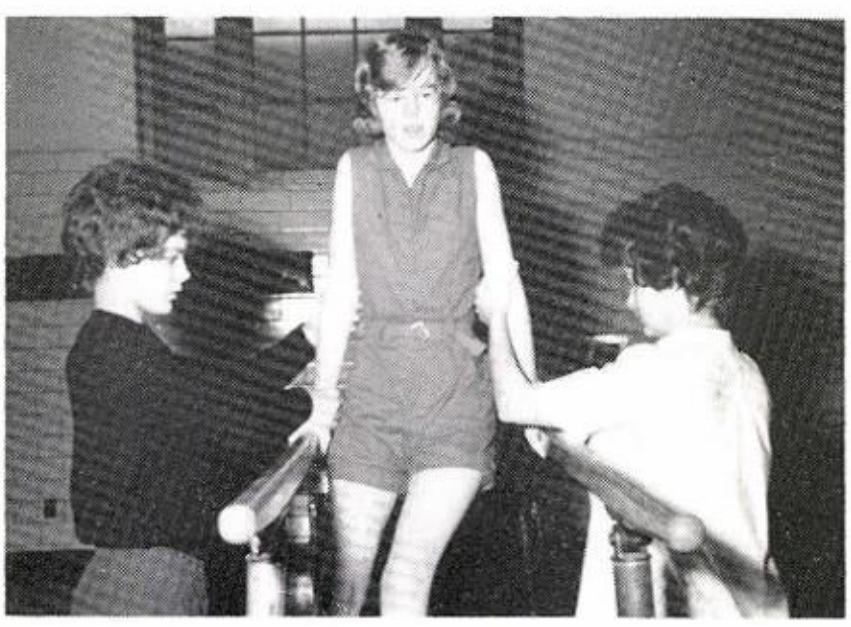
PHYSICAL EDUCATION

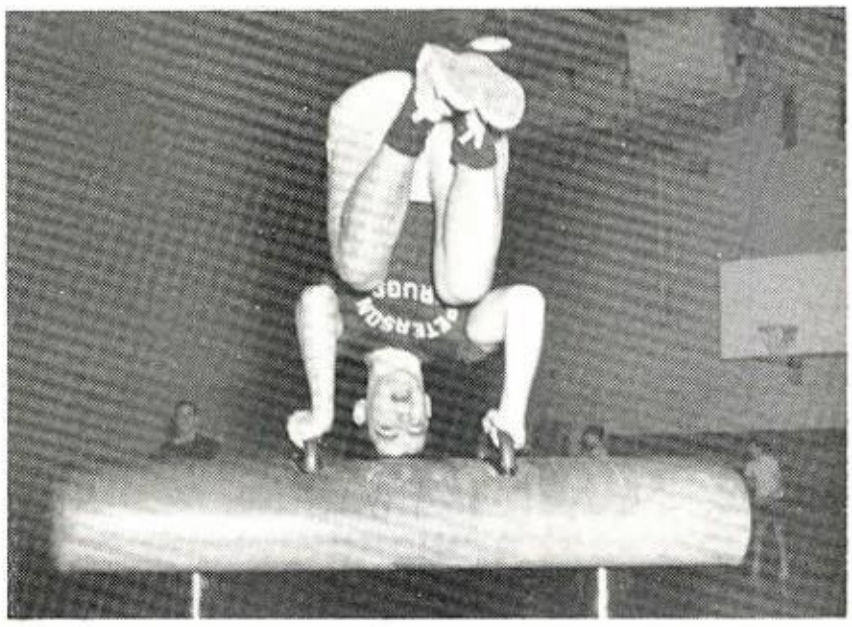
MR. EDWARD COATES, Director of Physical Education, Junior and Senior High Boys' Physical Education, Varsity Basketball Coach, Varsity Club Co-Adviser; MRS. ELEANOR RUSH, Junior and Senior High Girls' Physical Education, Cheerleading Adviser, Student Awards Auditor; MRS. ELIZABETH BRIDGE, Elementary Girls' Physical Education; MRS. JOAN LLOYD, Elementary Girls' Physical Education; MR. DAVID MARCH, Elementary Boys' Physical Education, Eighth Grade Football Coach, Varsity Baseball Coach

PHYSICAL FITNESS FIRST

"Fitness is the basis of all excellence." This is the motto of RHCS's Physical Education Department. All students are given physical fitness tests, the results of which are used as a basis to determine exercises to correct individual weaknesses. The physical education program consists of three divisions: the required instructional or class period, the intramural or laboratory phase and the athletic program. Apparatus, including the horse, rings and rope, helps teach agility. Basic skills are learned in such games as volleyball, field soccer, football, basketball, baseball, and softball.

Darinda Stearns





February is a popular month in gym as the trampoline, parallel bars and other apparatus are used. Sue Bottenfield and Mrs. Rush help Anne Seaman practice a hand travel on the parallel bars. John Bartenstein is finishing a head stand on the horse. This develops body control and arm strength.

DRIVER EDUCATION AND AGRICULTURE

MR. KENNETH EIGENMANN, Driver Education and Industrial Arts; MR. HARRY MERRELL, Vocational Agriculture, Future Farmers of America Adviser, Junior Varsity Basketball Coach

MERRILY WE ROLL ALONG

This year an innovation in the Driver Education program found students attending additional classroom instruction sessions twice a week during activity periods. These meetings were devoted to the study of what makes a good driver, regulations and conditions for driving, and parts and operation of a car. Practice periods when students actually drove were held twice a week.

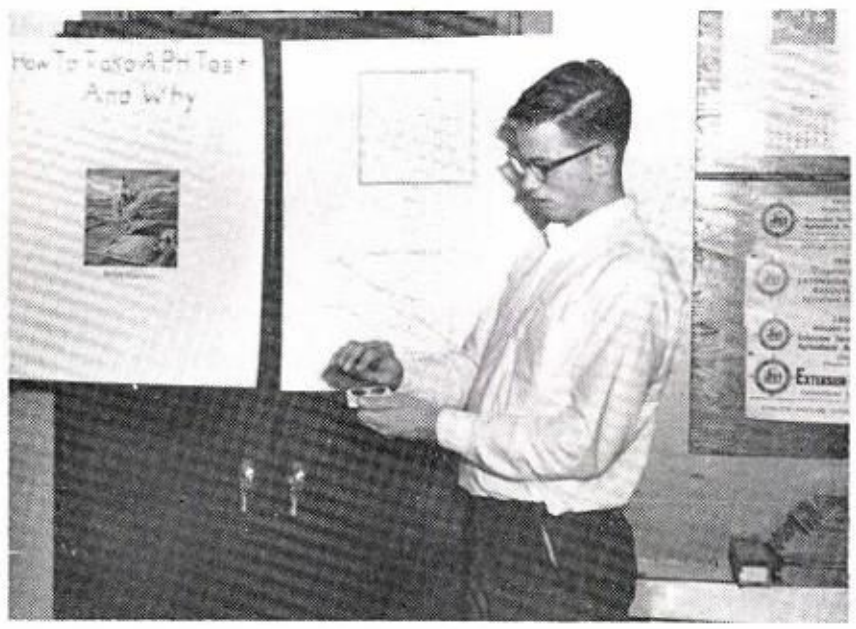
Margaret Baxter

OUT WHERE THE TALL CORN GROWS

As wheels turn, soil is tilled. Then seeds are planted, crops grow and are harvested. Students in the Agriculture Department learn to plant, tend and harvest crops. They also handle and care for farm machinery. This year, they enjoyed a field trip to Alfred State Tech and judged the Field and Forage Contest with representatives from Niagara, Orleans and Monroe Counties.

Rebecca Harvey

Male or female, one must learn the "ins and outs" of driving. Martha Ramming checks the oil as Sue Smith reads the check sheet.



Each Agriculture student was required to develop and present a demonstration as a class project. David Snyder is presenting his project on soil testing.

ALL FOR ONE, ONE FOR ALL

The Board of Cooperative Educational Services and Orleans-Niagara Supervisory District is a joint effort of seven area schools to reduce expenditures in education. Mr. Otto J. Stewart serves as the executive officer of the Board and District Superintendent, with headquarters in Medina. RHCS benefits from taking part in this organization in that personnel, equipment and facilities beyond the financial reach of the individual school are provided on a cooperative basis. The services offered include vocal and instrumental music, art, psychology, dental hygiene, Spanish, library, speech, psychiatry, reading and distributive education. The adoption of such a program has proved to be very effective in furthering excellent school-community relationships.

TIME FOR PARTING OF THE WAYS

In September of 1957 the members of the Class of '63 from the Gasport and Middleport Elementary Schools converged and, like the spokes of a great wheel, began to travel together on their uphill journey through Junior-Senior High School.

As Freshmen the Class of '63 undertook their first big projects — the sale of book covers and a dance, "Superstition Serenade." The class wheel gained momentum and as the year quickly rolled by, the class found itself mounting "Sophomore Hump." That year the Class of '63 sponsored another dance, "Evening in Paris."

After becoming Juniors the class eagerly awaited the delivery of their class rings in December. In June they presented the Senior Farewell Ball, "An Evening in the Orient." On Moving-Up Day they spent many happy hours decorating the podium and archway for the Senior Processional and then proudly took their places as members of the Senior Class.

In September of the Senior year Joshua Ongom from Uganda, Africa, and Rose Marie Tempro from Barbados in the British West Indies joined the class. During this year the Class of '63 presented the Senior Ball, "Winter Fantasy", and participated in the traditional Senior Recognition Day and Class Day. They are the first seniors to have their individual names inscribed on the cover of their SCOPES. Many members of the class have received scholastic and athletic honors throughout their school years. Still awaiting them, however, is the summit, the most memorable event of their high school journey — Commencement.

As the Class of '63 leaves RHCS, the Wheel of Fortune will spin differently for each member. Wherever they may go, and whatever they may do, the Senior Class will always cherish their memories of Royalton-Hartland, and the experiences they have had of learning, working, and playing together as the Class of '63.

Ernestine Flatt

Couples danced in a magic winter wonderland as corsages, formals and snowmen, filled the gym with gaiety during our Senior Ball, "Winter Fantasy."

In first grade we astounded the rest of our classmates by our dramatic presentation of an assembly program. Even then Jane was looking forward to graduation.

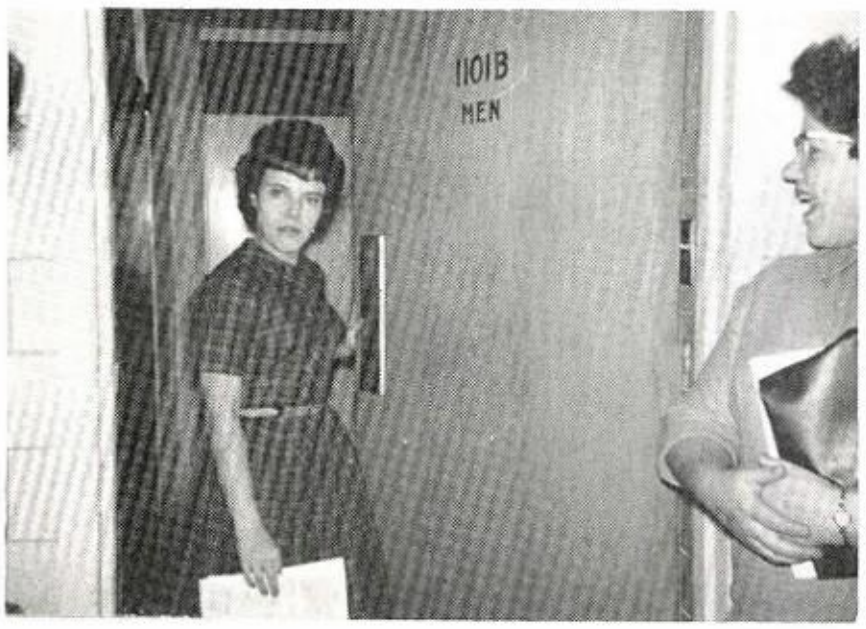
Red and yellow roses and crepe paper in the hands of artistic juniors transformed the gym into the scene for Moving-up Day.

The line forms to the right as anxious juniors eagerly receive their class rings. Two big events of school life happened in the junior year — rings and individual pictures in SCOPE.

A tradition of Class Day is the banner made of roses which is hung on the wall near where the seniors are seated. Carole Wickman puts on the finishing touches for the Class of '62.

"Winter Fantasy" meant gathering greens, trimming Christmas trees, making snowmen, and constructing three dimensional snowflakes to hang on the false ceiling in the gym. Lewis Walker is seen cutting the greens.

Sandy Sheldon and Ann Johnston check the costume of their friend from the Far North who adorned the center of the gym for the Senior Ball.



"The coast is clear!" says Dolores as Ernestine visits one of the rooms of the Buffalo Veteran's Hospital on a Future Nurses tour.

Mr. Kane offers a suggestion as Wayne Webber leads a class meeting. Kathie Ewing handles the money, Gail Roberts takes and reads the notes, and Mike Hammond takes over when Wayne isn't here.

The success of the book cover sale during our Freshman year was proved by the excellent condition of RHCS textbooks that year.

Mr. Fahy and Mr. Porter stand with Rose Marie Tempro and Joshua Ongom as they are introduced to the student body.

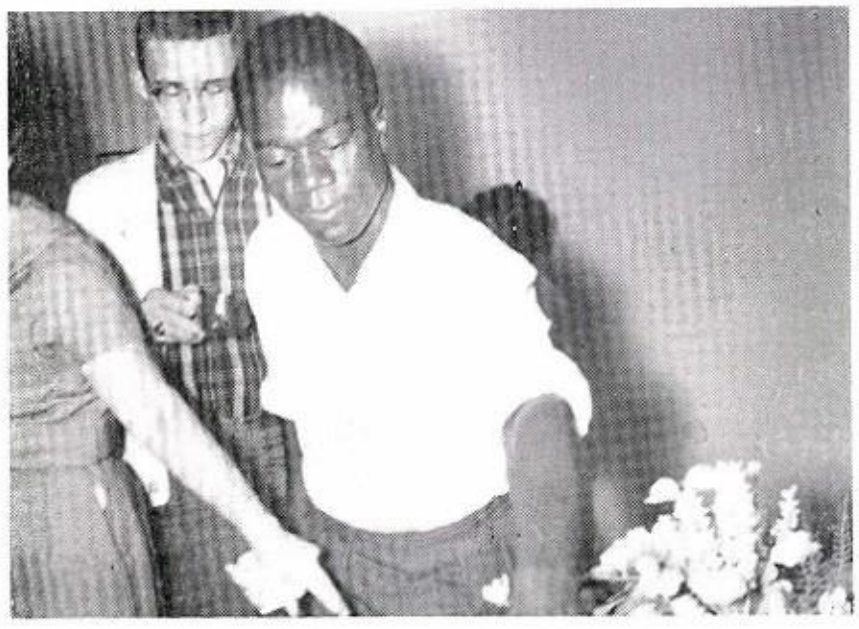
Kathie Ewing and Wayne Webber present Rose Marie and Josh with cameras — gifts of the senior class.

"Walk together, talk together, all ye peoples of the earth." This is the motto of the American Field Service Program to which I am greatly indebted. AFS, with members all over the world and especially in the United States, has given me and many other lucky students like me the wonderful opportunity of seeing and living the American way of life. I will always be most grateful to the many friendly and hospitable people I have met who have helped to make my year in the United States one that I am sure will be the most memorable year of my life.

Rose Marie Tempro

To the Board of Education, administrators, teachers, students and other members of the staff at RHCS, 1962-63: I wish to give my hearty thanks to you for your individual and collective assistance in making my Exchange Year in America and this school such a wonderful time. I have enjoyed the school very much, especially the academic work, games, sports, and other activities. Above all, I wish to thank the American Field Service for their fruitful effort in making AFS Exchange such a wonderful means by which the school shares firsthand experience with the foreign students. Your generosity and enthusiastic kindness enabled me to know you quite well. I hope you will keep up this spirit. I hope, too, that our experience in sharing has been of mutual benefit.

Joshua Ongom



Mrs. Everett, adviser of AFS, visits with Rose Marie at the get-acquainted tea as Ken Small helps Josh at the tea table. We have enjoyed knowing you and working with you, Rose Marie and Josh. We will miss you next year.

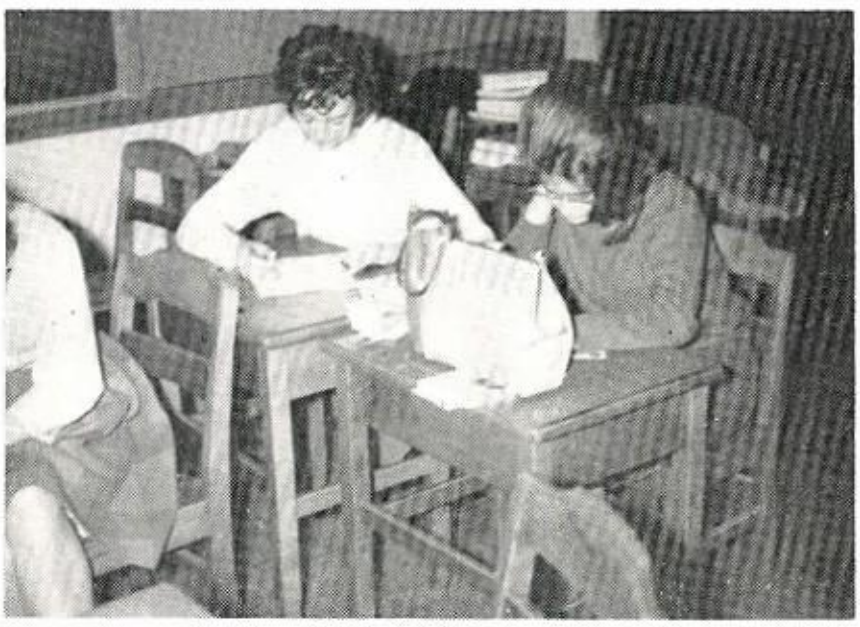
ALL IN A DAY'S WORK

Smiling faces show the beginning of a new day. These students are on their way to homeroom for attendance check.

Mr. Ciarico supervises locker clean-out. When the book shelves in the library look bare, it's locker clean-out time.



What are tests for? To show you what you know and what you don't know. Ruth and Maureen ponder over a thought provoker.

FBI? No — a Civil Defense representative fingerprinted those students who studied the first aid course during one activity period a week.

ELEMENTARY

The spinning wheel marked the beginning of cloth as the elementary grades mark the beginning of education.

INDEPENDENCE AND RESPONSIBILITY

Just as new countries clamor for their independence, so do the children in the intermediate grades. With independence also comes added responsibility.

By the time a child is in fourth grade, he is no longer as dependent on adults as he had been formerly. He is now reaching out for personal independence. He profits by learning first hand the past of his surroundings and by contrasting past with present.

During the fifth grade, the student tends to be a conformist. He learns to take more interest in the people around him, and wants to be one of the "gang." This is another step in learning to get along with others. By studying the geography and history of the United States, he gains knowledge of the manners and customs of our people. The ideas of democracy are studied and practiced. This is the foundation upon which later studies will be based.

The sixth grader is eagerly awaiting the advance to junior high. His work is harder and more complicated. Throughout the year he builds up his skills and makes steady progress in independent study. He lives the ways of democracy, learning to be the best citizen possible.

The intermediate grades add to the knowledge that carries the students on towards further learning experiences.

THE BOOK OPENS

In the first chapters of the book of life a person learns to get along with the people around him and then progressively broadens his knowledge span from his immediate family to his community.

In the Royalton-Hartland school district, parents can be assured that their children are receiving the best education possible in the primary grades.

The first chapter is attending kindergarten, where children not only learn to count to ten and manuscript their names, but also receive their first real challenge of meeting and cooperating with other children their own age. The second chapter is perhaps their greatest achievement, learning to read. They also study the rudiments of arithmetic and science. In the third and fourth chapters as second and third grade pupils, they gradually build up their knowledge in social studies, arithmetic, and science.

The primary students take trips to the post office, fire hall, and dairy to learn more about the community. Gym, art, music, and library classes are held regularly for the students.

The principal aims of the primary grades are to introduce the youngster to the world around him and to teach him concepts he will need in his future education.

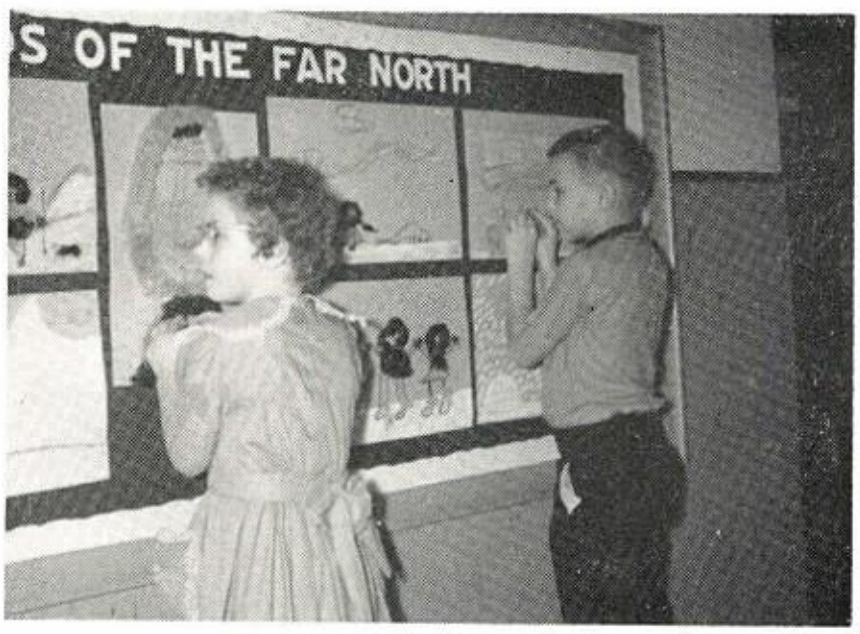
Science begins in kindergarten with the study of Whitey, a mouse. Stewart White watches Whitey intently.

Each class goes to the art room for art classes. These youngsters are working with clay.

One of the skills learned in kindergarten is painting. Mary Ellen Podniesinski works at the easel.

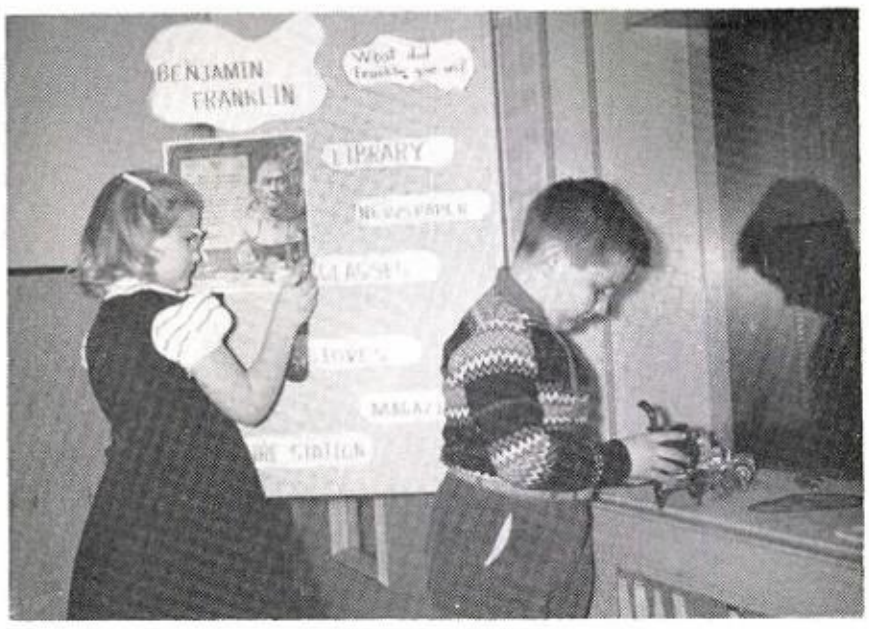


The bulletin board is a visual aid. Kathy Walker and Daniel Stern prepare a display about the Far North.

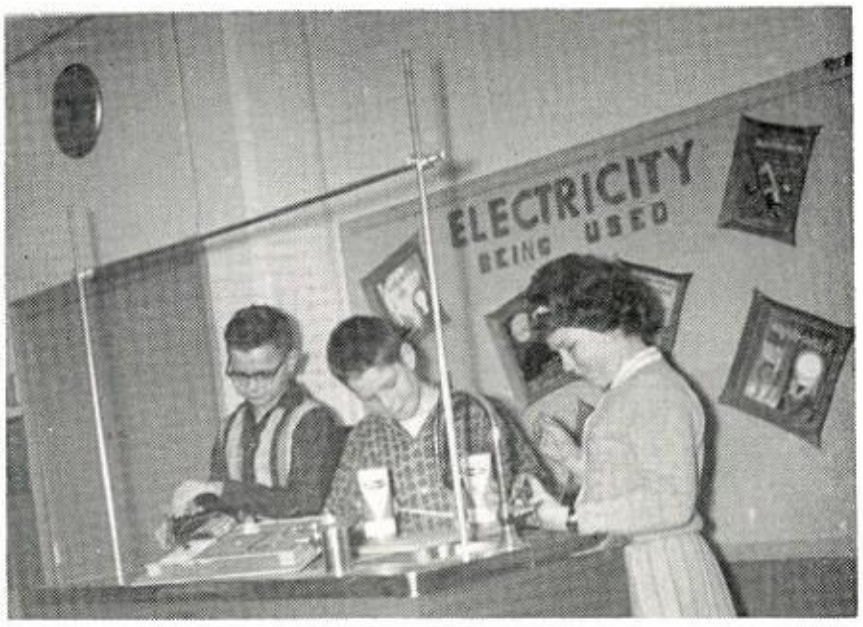
Linda Pleace raises her hand to ask Mrs. Johnson a question about her math as Pat Shelly studies a problem.

Third grade students brought trucks, engines, cars and boats to study in connection with the transportation unit.

Youngsters in Mrs. Kirkpatrick's room learn to operate marionettes which they made in art.



Sally Reed and Philip Majka fix the display case to show the accomplishments of Benjamin Franklin.



Bruce Wallace, Roy Holmes, and Donna Winters work on an experiment in the study of electricity.

Students in Mr. Gordon's fifth grade present a play to enrich the study of a social studies unit.

These library club members help Mrs. Blackburn with many jobs in the library.

"And now a word from our sponsor!" This year, Press Club launched an all-out drive to promote the sale of SCOPE. Posters were displayed throughout the school, and many students were delighted to see their faces appear on unusual forms. Four "surprise packages" were awarded to the rooms which had the highest percentage of SCOPE subscriptions in each of the three schools. As always, Press Club members have worked diligently to edit the best yearbook possible.

"A woman's work is never done." This adage is so true of RHCS Future Homemakers of America. The club's activities began with initiation of new members which was held at the Mother and Daughter Banquet. In order to defray the expense of sending representatives to District FHA rallies, members held a dance and sold nuts. In many pleasurable ways club members have gained greater knowledge of homemaking. If "home is where the heart is," these girls are truly learning to be the "hearts" of their future homes.

The wheels turned round and round as the RHCS school bus carried members of the Junior Historical Society to visit many historical points of interest. A highlight of the year was their attendance at the New York State Junior Historical Society Meeting in Albany, where members presented an oral talk and slides giving a complete history of the Niagara Chemical Corporation.

"Why I Want to Be a Teacher" was the title of a composition written by each member of Future Teachers Association. The best of these were judged, along with entries from other schools, by Delta Kappa Gamma. The club's aim is to augment its members' knowledge of the teaching profession. Members are often asked to act as classroom assistants or to help correct papers. The monthly meetings include lectures by student teachers about teaching experiences and the presentation of films provided by the State Education Department.

The Library Club members of today hope to be the librarians of tomorrow. To become a member of this club one must have a keen interest in reading. Members sign out books, make overdue notices, shelve books, and make the library a cheerful reading and research center. Throughout the school many colorful bulletin boards are arranged by members, as well as a special display during Book Week.

"All in favor say, 'Aye!'" Thus the student council votes again. Possibly the members are voting on a money-making project or on a decision concerning regulation of student activities. Better rules for a better school are a constant concern of this student government organization. The Student Council also provides leadership for the school, and takes charge of the activity calendar, banking program, and lost articles. This organization helps new students to adapt themselves to the routine of high school life at RHCS.

Snip went the scissors as the members of the High School Red Cross began to make wall decorations for the Buffalo Veteran's Administration Hospital. Another highlight of the year was the enrollment drive, which was a contest to elect RHCS's king and queen and prince and princess. A total of fifty dollars was contributed as students cast votes by placing money in jars decorated with candidates' baby pictures. The winners were crowned at the dance, "Diaper Drag". Club members were also in charge of the collection of money and clothing for worthy charities.

Ding, Ding, Ding — and a fire drill or air raid drill is in motion with the help of RHCS firewardens. These student leaders are elected to their one-year posts by their classmates in September. On the second and fourth Fridays of each month, meetings are held to discuss topics such as riot control, the prevention of hazards and the employment of safety measures wherever they are needed. Supervision of assembly traffic and seating is another important job of this service organization.

"I'm going over to the refreshment stand," says a spectator at a football game. Financial management and organization were practiced by Industrial Arts Club members via the concession stand. Construction procedures, as illustrated by the stand's truss roof, were learned. Members also built stage scenery and made school projects such as lamps, book racks, and candy dishes. The high social point of the year was a picnic with boating and fishing at Indian Falls.

Why were there such long faces on Dramatics Club members this fall? Due to the remodeling of the present auditorium, the school play was cancelled. However, without a three-act play to produce, many more members were able to participate in numerous skits and pantomines both at meetings and assemblies. Club membership this year was opened to all students in grades seven through twelve. The RHCS dramatists are looking forward to attending a musical production at Melody Fair this summer.

"Comment dites-vous . . . ?" "Est-ce que j'ai raison?" These are common questions asked in the Cercle Francais where new vocabulary is acquired through using French in everyday conversation. The members also learn new words through playing games, singing songs, listening to records and watching movies in French. Meetings are highlighted by the sampling of such exotic foods as French pastry and truffles. "French spoken here" may well be the slogan of this RHCS language organization.

"The name of this club shall be the Announcers' Club." So reads Article I of the by-laws of Royalton-Hartland's youngest organization established for the first time this year. The purpose of Announcer's Club is to increase members' knowledge of public speaking techniques, to further their speaking ability and to provide for all school organizations any service needed in the field of announcing. Members gain practical experience by announcing in assemblies and over the public address system. The next voice you hear may be that of an RHCS announcer!

Yum! That FFA Pancake Supper was better than ever this year. Future Farmers gives the boys chances to apply their agricultural knowledge to everyday life. This year, the FFA chapter in our school sent two representatives to the National FFA convention in Kansas City, Missouri. The primary aim of the Future Farmers of America is to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation, citizenship and patriotism. The productivity of Niagara County is insured in the hands of these farmers of tomorrow.

Juniors and Seniors sit tensely, waiting and wondering if they will be tapped in the National Honor Society Assembly. To be tapped to become a member of this organization is one of the highest honors which can be earned by an RHCS student. Each member must possess the qualities of scholarship, leadership, character and service. At Christmas time the Honor Society, in cooperation with the Student Counselors, annually sponsors "Homecoming Day".

"Hold that pose!" exclaims a member of the Photography Club as he adjusts his camera correctly. The aim of Photography Club is to teach members the steps towards better picture taking, including camera knowledge, picture composition, development of film and enlargement of negatives. Picturesque places are visited on field trips for study and observation. Instruction is also given in all types of photography from portraiture to action shots, with the help of informative pamphlets from Eastman-Kodak. Thus, club members learn a profitable and interesting hobby.

"Here comes the Bookmobile!" Patients at Lockport Memorial Hospital looked forward to the visits of the Future Nurses Club members who manned the new bookmobile as one of their projects. Other girls worked as volunteers in nursing homes. Many club members spent free periods helping in the health room and in clinics. Each member brought a Christmas gift to be sent to the Buffalo State Hospital. Future Nurses Club tries to give its members an insight into nursing as a career and to help club members find the stage of nursing best suited for them.

"Pizza! Buy a pizza here and support the American Field Service!" Expressions like this could be heard throughout the area as AFS started its Annual Pizza Sale. Club members worked together successfully to sell 2,000 pizzas to help bring two foreign students to RHCS. A dance, a roast beef dinner and Slacks Day also aided the fund. As a result of their efforts Rose Marie Tempro and Joshua Ongom have spent this school year at RHCS. Thus, American Field Service Club makes a lasting contribution to world friendship.

MINORS TRAIN FOR THE MAJORS

Seventh and eighth graders who enjoy group singing comprise the Junior High Chorus. In preparation for Mixed Chorus and Acappella Choir, these songsters develop group techniques such as blending and tonation. In this organization enthusiasm and interest are generated; these are definitely carried over into the senior high choral groups. This year they met for practice with Mr. Cole every Monday and Wednesday activity period and participated in the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

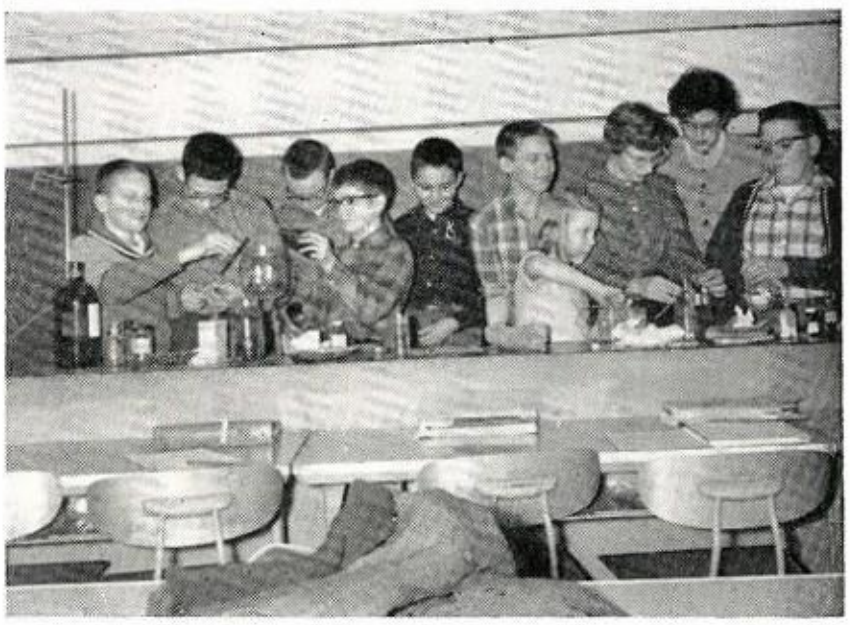
GONE FISSION!

"Was that an explosion?" It was probably just a future scientist at work. The Cosmic Science Club strives to create interest in science among students by encouraging them to increase their knowledge and test their skill through investigation. Well-planned experiments and demonstrations are conducted at meetings. Each member completes at least one research project during the year. Some of these projects are displayed at the annual Spring Open House. Perhaps these students may contribute greatly to the progress of mankind because of the interest in science aroused by this club.

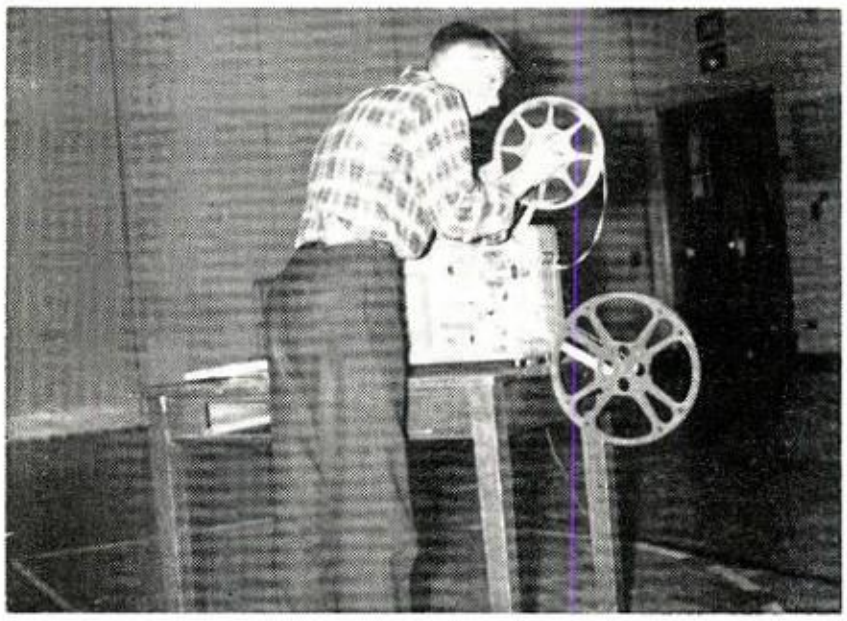
Margaret A. Deneau



Junior High scientists meet once a month to work on experiments.

During free periods Retailing Club members work in the Corner Shop. Here Mary Meindl makes a sale.

The bulletin board in the library and the showcase in the foyer are attractively arranged by Library Club members. Jim Gormley uses book jackets to design the October bulletin board.



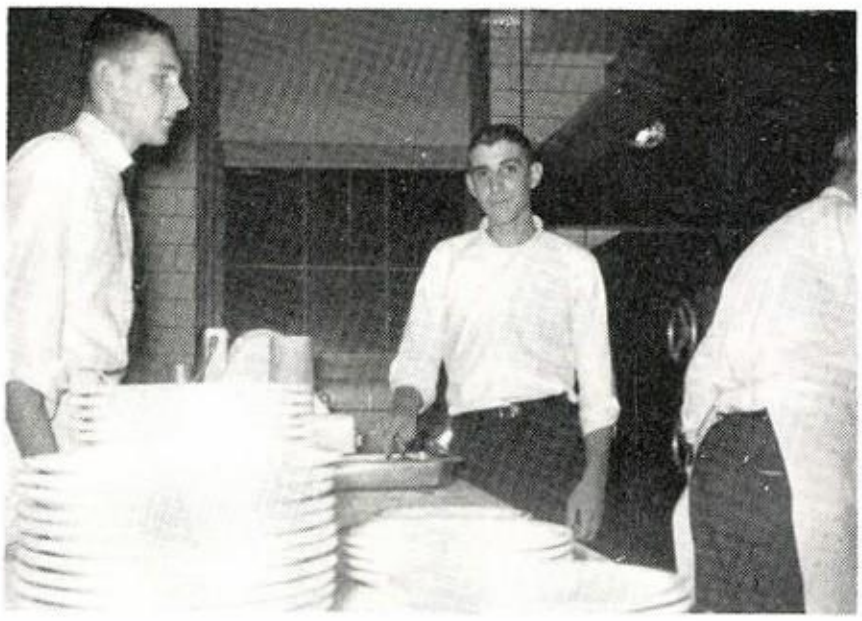
The intricacies of the film projector are no problem for Audio Visual Club member, Lowell Taylor.

It's balanced! Kathie Ewing and Mrs. Payne work on the senior class account. Each activity has an account and all deposits and withdrawals are handled through the office.

Christmas packages for the Veteran's Hospital were purchased by the Future Nurses Club. Sue Bottenfield, Gail Roberts and Carole Wickman put the finishing touches on the gifts.

Humorous posters with the faces of RHCS students and faculty appeared in many conspicuous spots throughout the building to promote the SCOPE drive. Ernestine Flatt, co-artist, adds a caption.

"There is Miss Lenhardt rowing across the Delaware!" exclaims Donna as she and others clamor to see the SCOPE drive posters.



Tom Gardner and Dick Williams wait to serve the first batch of pancakes as the annual FFA pancake supper begins.

Margaret Baxter pastes June Fry's head on the body of an Indian pictured selling Manhattan Island to the Dutch. This famous bargain was not as big a bargain as SCOPE.

To finance the AFS program an annual roast beef dinner is given. Becky Burns and Sue Hill give prompt service to Mr. Nasal and other hungry people.

Dance Band takes a break during eighth period practice for the Homecoming Day Dance. They also entertained the audience during the intermission of the musical.

A cake was presented to Joshua and Rose Marie at the AFS dance. Ken Small and Skip Shephard help Josh cut the first piece.

Coach - - - - Mr. Edward Coates

The hoopsters started the season off with a breath-taking seven straight wins. The streak of success was halted by a thrilling game at Medina. From this point on, the team dropped from second to a tie for fourth place with Albion. In the play-off Albion defeated RHCS and we ended the season in fifth place. Only three players will graduate, leaving a strong experienced team to carry on. Senior Dave Schlinger Orleans league and was chosen as a member of the All-Star team. Newfane, Albion, and RHCS all represented Niagara-Orleans Class A at the sectional. RHCS was defeated in the first round.

NIGHT LIFE OF THE RAMS

Captain - - THOMAS JAMIESON
Coach - - MR. BRUNO PACINI

Pacini held the lantern while the Rams chopped the yardage and chalked up three wins and five losses to finish fifth in the league. All home games were played under the newly-installed light. Another first was the new system of announcing plays. The team benefited from the study of the plays which were photographed with the school's new movie camera, operated by Dr. Frank Pita. The ball club consisted of six seniors, seventeen juniors and two sophomores. One of the squad was picked for the Niagara Falls Gazette All-Star team and four received honorable mention.

"Batter up!" With a mighty crack of the bat, the Roy-Hart Rams embarked upon what proved to be a most successful season. After dropping their first game to Medina, the team rallied to become favored contenders in the battle for the sectional title. The Rams ended the season with a creditable 6-4 record and placed fourth in the league. Adding to the success of the season were two outstanding players—Dick McOmber, who hit a sizzling .500 to become the Niagara-Orleans batting champion, and Sophomore Fred Leibring, who pitched four of the six victories for an excellent record.

OVER HILL OVER DALE

Coach - - - - - - - - - MR. ROBERT SKINNER

"Just a little farther to the finish line," pants an RHCS runner. The spirit and desire to win shown by the boys more than makes up for the season's record, which shows they lost several valuable points by narrow margins. Unlike most other competitive sports, in cross country the low score wins. All starters will return next year, so fair warning to all pedestrians — stay off the grass behind the school next fall!

SEE YOU IN COURT!

Coach - - - - - - - - - MR. GAR LARSON

With a whiz the ball sailed up and over the net to mark the beginning of a new season of tennis, which is one of the most popular spring sports at RHCS. Almost every school in the Niagara-Orleans League has a tennis team, so competition is keen. Roy-Hart's record this year showed two wins and five losses; however, all matches were close and exciting. Veterans Peter Scarborough, Lynn Creasey and Robert Mather played their last games with Roy-Hart. Tennis not only tones the muscles but also develops agility and speed of reaction, so tennis experience gained at RHCS will be of benefit to each player in future years. "Tennis, anyone?"

THE POWER OF STRENGTH

Co-Captains - - - - DAVID SNYDER, LEWIS WALKER
Coach - - - - - - - - - MR. JOSEPH NASAL

Even though the season's record for the wrestling team was "wins none, and losses five," each wrestler won one or more of his matches. Roy-Hart had only two lettermen returning this year; they were Lewis Walker and David Snyder. The most-improved wrestler was Kenneth Kalbfliesh with Ted Sands being a close runner up.

THE NOISE BEHIND THE BOYS

Adviser - - - - - - - - MRS. ELEANOR RUSH

"Fight, team, fight!" is heard throughout the gymnasium as the cheerleaders lead the student body in a cheer. Each spring a group of interested girls try out before judges to win the honor of being cheerleaders. The varsity squad is made up of juniors and seniors and the junior varsity squad consists of freshmen and sophomores. To be a cheerleader, a girl must have pep, personality, leadership, character and co-ordination. The cheerleader's job is to promote school spirit and to lead cheers at all games and pep assemblies. Each girl must have two hours of practice before every game to perfect co-ordination. This year the girls attended a cheerleading clinic at Starpoint where they exchanged ideas on technique with other area schools.

LETTERMEN IN THE LIMELIGHT

President - - - - - - - - THOMAS JAMIESON
Vice-President - - - - - - - - GARY JONES
Secretary - - - - - - - - LEWIS WALKER
Treasurer - - - - - - - - DAVID SNYDER
Advisers - - - - - - - - MR. BRUNO PACINI
MR. THOMAS BERMINGHAM, MR. EDWARD COATES

Membership in Varsity Club is a reward for good sportsmanship and hard work in any major sport. The lettermen who are club members sponsored a basketball game between the RHCS Men's Faculty Team and the Canadian Diplomats. This game plus other money-making projects provided funds for the gift given to the school at the end of the year. A contribution toward a movie camera was provided for the school last year.
